HAVE YOU BELIEVED OUR REPORT?
Series #1 Part 12
Isaiah 53rd chapter 1st & 2nd verses

Who hath believed our report and to whom is the arm of the Lord revealed?

For he shall grow up before him as a tender plant, and as a root out of a dry ground: He hath no form nor comeliness; and when we shall see him, there is no beauty that we should desie him.

THE LORD WILL PROVIDE
Genesis, Chp. 26, Verses 1-5

And there was a famine in the land, beside the first famine that was in the days of Abraham. And Isac went unto Abimelech king of the Philistines unto Gerar.

And the Lord appeared unto him, and said, Go not down into Egypt; dwell in the land which I shall tell thee of:

Sojourn in this land, and I will be with thee, and will bless thee; for unto thee, and unto thy seed, I will give all these countries, and I will perform the oath which I sware unto Abraham thy father;

And I will make thy seed to multiply as the stars of heaven, and will give unto thy seed all these countries; and in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed;

Because that Abraham obeyed my voice, and kept my charge, my commandments, my statutes, and my laws.

Genesis, Chp. 22, Verse 12&13

And he said, Lay not thine hand upon the lad, neither do thou any thing unto him: for now I know that thou fearest God, seeing thou hast not withheld thy son, thine only son from me.

And Abraham lifted up his eyes, and looked, and behold behind him a ram caught in a thicket by his horns: and Abraham went and took the ram, and offered him up for a burnt offering in the stead of his son.

PSALM 139

To the chief Musician, A Psalm of David.

O Lord, thou hast searched me, and known me.

Thou knowest my downsitting and mine uprising, thou understandest my thought afar off.

Thou compassest my path and my lying down, and art acquainted with all my ways.

For there is not a word in my tongue, but, lo, O Lord, thou knowest it altogether.

Thou hast beset me behind and before, and laid thine hand upon me.

Such knowledge is too wonderful for me; it is high, I can not attain unto it.

Whither shall I go from thy spirit? or whither shall I flee from thy presence?

If I ascend up into heaven, thou art there: if I make my bed in hell, behold thou art there.

If I take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the utter most parts of the sea;

Even there shall thy hand lead me, and thy right hand shall hold me.

If I say, Surely the darkness shall cover me; even the night shall be light about me.

Yea, the darkness hideth not from thee; but the night shineth as the day: the darkness and the light are both alike to thee.

For thou hast possessed my reins: thou hast covered me in my mother's womb.

I will praise thee; for I am fearfully an wonderfully made: marvellous are thy works; and that my soul knoweth right well.

My substance was not hid from thee, when I was made in secret, and curiously wrought in the lowest parts of the earth.

Thine eyes did see my substance, yet being unperfect; and in thy book all my members were written, which in continuance were fashioned, when as yet there was none of them.

How precious also are thy thoughts unto me, O GOD! How great is the sum of them!

We welcome news of your church and civic events.

Travelex International is very happy to invite you and friends of The Prince Hall Masonic Family, to join us on a specially sponsored Grand Tour of the Caribbean, departing 1:14 a.m. October 23 through November 4, 1983.

A special side trip to Fort-De-France, Martinique, the most exotic of the West Indies Islands, where the delightful mixture of Creole and French culture permeates the Island.

The Tour will further highlight a trip to St. Thomas, Virgin Islands, the shopping center of the West Indies.

You cannot afford to miss this grand opportunity of a lifetime whereby the history, tradition and heritage will leave a lasting mark in your minds and hearts for as little as $1,250, which includes a troundtrip air fare, luxury ground accommodations for approximately 12 days, side trips to St. Thomas and Martinique.

There have been a blizzard of recent reports sounding the alarm about our school's failure to educate our students for the more complex world of the future.

The National Commission on Excellance in Education weighted in first with a report warning that "the educational foundations of our society are presently being eroded by a rising tide of mediocity that threatens our very future as a nation and as people."

It recommended longer school hours, a longer school year, more homework, upgraded curriculum and tighter standards, among other reforms.

Hard on the heels of that report came several others, each making the same basic points--that the quality of American education is declining to the point where it threatens our economic competitiveness in the world.

Those reports were signed by the leading lights of the Establishment--business leaders, governors, educators. The blue-ribbion backing for school reform sent a clear signal that a broad section of America's leadership wants a major, national effort to improve education.

That clearly implies increased federal leadership. Not that anyone wants local schools run by Washington. But sharply increased federal funding and national goals seem to be the minimum necessary for a truly national effort to improve all our schools.

Unfortunately, the Administration's response was to welcome the reports to stick to its intention to further cut the federal government's role.

The President said: "We'll continue to work in the months ahead for passage of tuition tax credits, vouchers, educational savings accounts, voluntary school prayer and abolishing the Department of Education."

That's some agenda! Every single item in it would drive another stake into the heart of public education. Tuition tax credits and vouchers can only encourages a move away from public schools, the saving accounts can only give tax breaks to middle and upper income parents, school prayer won't improve math scores and abolishing the Education Department would just put the seal on the government's abdication from its educational leadership responsibilities.

But even beyond the Administation's lack of response to the urgency of those reports is the question of whether educational reforms will benefit minority and poor children.

Tougher standards, stiffer courses and all the rest make a lot of sence as medicine for a system that pushes out so many kids and fails to bring so many others up to minimum levels of literacy.

But only if all students get the attention and assistance they need to excel. Otherwise, the medicine prescribed could turn out to be poison. All the calls for excellence would boomerang, helping to create a two-tier system of eduation in which an elite are prepared for the complex world of computerized economy while the rest are taught only enough to read the directions for sweeping floors.

Improving the schools will take a lot more dollars, federal ones at that. It will take changes in the institutional rigidity that keeps school systems from demanding--and getting the maximum results from all students and teachers.

What all those reports--and the Administration--fail to highlight is the fact that children from minority and disadvantaged backgrounds are filling a higher proportion of classroom seats.

The pursuit of excellance must go hand-in-hand with the pursuit of equity.

UNINVITED CELEBRATION '83 GUEST ANGRY

A recent letter dated May 5, 1983 "PRIDE RADIATES THROUGHOUT THE DOME" prompted me to take a pen and paper in hand and write.

The letter angered me. Oh! It was not because the writer took pride in the Dome.

I, too, have pride in the Dome. Recently, my small children, Andre' and Adrienne had hte opportunity to visit the facility and we were all proud of Tacoma, its citizency and its future. The Dome speaks to a city looking forward to new horizons.

After a little introspection, it occurred to me I was angry because I was not invited to the "CELEBRATION '83."

You see, when I was a youngster growing up in Tacoma, participating in sports such as football, baseball, wrestling, and track.

Organizations and individuals such as the Tacoma Athletic Commission (TAC) and Clay Huntington were an integral part of my life.

I ran track many summers as a representative of TAC and Clay Huntington, and broadcasted may capacity filled Lincoln Abe football games.

Many of the people in attendance at "CELEBRATION '83 were probable fans of mine and my teammates. If the truth were told some would probably say "Oh! Yeah, Don Moore, I knew him well!"

Moreover, it seems to me the stage for building the Dome was set by individuals such as myself years ago.

Enough said, even though I felt slighted, I feel much better now. Tacoma, our pride is showing!!!

In addition to his post with the Human Rights Commission, Mr. Newkirk is a member of the NAACP, the Black Historical and Cultural Society of Brittish Columbia, The Committee for Racial Justice, the Brittish Columbia Coalition for the Disabled, and the United Nations of Native People.

These communities are founded upon and operate according to the principle of the oneness of humanity. Baha'u'llah has written, "Ye are the leaves of one tree, the fruits of one branch."
